A GOOD MILAM COUNTY MELON

WATERMELON UP — A youthful worker catches a melon coming off the big truck at right, one of two loaded out in recent days at the "Bulldog" Kornegay farm, near Hanover. Kornegay has 200 acres of melons, some of the several thousand Milam acres in melons and cantaloupes. This crop is an early one, but the main crop will be coming in during the next few weeks. Rains this week gave the truck crop industry a boost in the Southeast Milam area.

TURNER SWORN AS COUNCILMAN; POLICE CITED

The City Council Tuesday night saw Lester Turner, Cameron grocer, sworn in as councilman to fill Roy Griffith's unexpired term.

In a short agenda, Mayor Coleman Duncum also noted a letter from Ada Henderson Principal Ray Stevens commending Chief Elvin Hoskins and his staff for patrol work at the school.

In routine reports, Public Works Supt. J. B. Earle noted:

--Penetration work on W. Sixth St. from the SP Railroad to Emancipation and on 15th Street from Jackson to Burns.

--Working on base on Ninth Street from Fannin to Central Ave.
--Completion of work on Gillis Street and Cemetery entrance.

--Start of work on Burns Street drainage and placing binder on Harding, Hoover and Cleveland Aves.

He anticipated work to begin on E. Fifth St. surfacing and additional miscellaneous work.

Water Supt. Alvin Hefft noted installation of two new water connections and one sewer connection, and plans for other regular work schedules.

The Council also opened bids, subject to Fire Department approval, for some new fire hose. No bids were awarded as yet, according to City Secretary Buddy Fuller.

Waco Firm Plans San Gabriel Move

B&B Sporting Goods Co., Inc, of Waco, has purchased the San Gabriel school building, now vacant, from the Thorndale School District for use as a factory-warehouse in the near future.

Frank Dickson, vice-president of the Waco-based wholesale athletic equipment firm, told The Herald that clean-up work on the grounds and in the building has already begun.

The school was closed about two years ago when the San Gabriel district consolidated with Thorndale.

LARGE BUILDING

Situated just off FM Rd. 486, the large native stone, one-story structure was built in the mid-1930's. It had been vacant since the school was closed by a vote of school district patrons.

O. L. Bradley, owner of B&B Sporting Goods was not available for comment. He completed the transaction with the Thorndale School Board about two weeks ago, Dickson said.

Dickson said that more details on B&B's use of the building would be made available at a later date.

The firm's vice-president said that residents of the community had been very cordial about the firm's plans to open the building and helpful to Mr. Bradley in recent weeks.

Bradley's firm sells wholesale to schools throughout Texas and operates a retail store in Waco.

Dickson said several factors beside the availability of the San Gabriel building determined B&B's purchase and future plans.

FAVORABLE FACTORS

The central location of the San Gabriel community, rail facilities nearby, availability of water and workers all had a bearing on the Waco firm's decision to locate in the Milam County community.

It is the first location of a new business in the historic San Gabriel community in many years.

Builders of the school used some of the native stone used originally by Spanish priests in the 1600's to erect a San Gabriel River dam.

3 MINOR WRECKS DAMAGE AUTOS, BUT INJURE NONE

Highway Patrollman Gilbert Smith reported three minor property damage accidents Sunday. No one was injured.

At 3 a.m. Sunday Robert Lee Hatton, of Wallis, lost control of his car and it overturned on SH 36 about 2.9 miles south of Cameron. Neither he nor his passenger, Raymond Leon Hatton was injured.

Clara Newsome Jones of Fort Worth overturned her car about 1.2 miles north of Cameron on US 77. The accident took place about 6:30 p.m.

Smith said the car rolled over completely and came to rest on its wheels. There were no injuries and damage was estimated to be about $600. Passengers were Nathan Jones and Tower Premiom both of Fort Worth.

The only multiple car wreck occured as James Clayton Junek of Buckholts, going east, attempted to turn left into the driveway of the S.P.J.S.T. Hall in Buckholts. Smith said that an eastbound car driven by Albert E. Pennison, Jr., of Fort Hood, attempted to pass at the same time and the two cars collided.

The car driven by Pennison then hit C. F.Swift's parked car. The accident took place about 5 p.m. Sunday.

No one was hurt in the wreck and damage to the Pennison car was estimated at $200 and the damage to the Junek car was estimated at $150.

TRUCK CROPS GAIN MOST IN AREA MOISTURE

Less than an inch of rain fell in three intermittent Cameron showers during the past five days, but other parts of Milam County received more moisture.

Official city weather measurements showed that .15 of an inch fell Sunday, .12 Monday and .40 Tuesday in the immediate city area

County Agent J. D. Moore reported that Minerva and Rockdale fared better than the Cameron area.

He said the recent rains will help the Southeast Milam truck crops that were not too far advanced.

The area northwest of Cameron still needs additional, he said.

Grass was critical and the rains helped a lot. Water in most farm ponds or tanks was adequate, but in others it had become critical.

Cotton was helped a great deal, Moore said, while maize and corn, which harvest sooner, were helped some.

Favorable spring weather brought the melon crop to early maturity, Moore said, and the heat hastened it, though the sun has been burning the Milam tomato crop.

"We still need more rain, as farmers will tell you, to help make a good hay crop to carry cattlemen through the winter," he said.

The Cameron area has received about 7 inches of rain since January 1, according to City records. A total of 3.17 inches fell January through March and 3.85 inches since April 1.

Summarizing on the recent rains, Moore said the county would have got maximum good two weeks ago, but the past week of rains helped a lot.

Speaker Describes Communist Tyranny In Czechoslovakia

The ceramics expert, employed by Vigro-Tech at Hearne, gave a vivid stirring account of his country's loss of freedom to minority communism before Cameron Rotarans.

Speaking as a "politicecal refugee without politics," Von Dracek told Rotarians that defeating communism demands more than the effort in acquiring a better car or house, that it takes dedication that, he said, "many of us did recognize until too late."

"Many of my friends have been killed and I and my wife have traveled around the world since leaving our native land.

He and Mrs. Dracek have lived in Burma, Canada, Australia, Illinois and both in Dallas and Bryan.

Descendant of a family 350 years in the ceramics business in Czechoslovakia, Dracek said the middle class of educated, trained people did not accept the communist line that appealed to the youth and nonpolitical leadership.

"But suddenly, there was no more Rotary Club to belong to, no business, no close acquaintences, no private ownership: everything belonged to the state," he said.

He warned against lack of interest and taking time to do civic and public works.

He said that a Communist always has time to take interest in labor movements, in politics. "That's how they did it in Czechoslovakia," he said.

104 Cox Will Head Texas Bar Assoc.

By FML

We say welcome to B&B Sporting Goods, of Waco, in their plans to expand their operation to Milam county in the San Gabriel community school building.

Though it is some several miles to that South Milam community, it is still to the gain of the entire county that the Waco wholesale firm chose us.

"Why did you choose San Gabriel and Milam County?" asked The Herald.

Because, said a company officer, of the availability of water (San Gabriel River), nearby rail service (Missouri - Pacific) and available workers as well as the large school building, sturdily built of historic native stone out of an old river dam.

This choice, this decision should motivate Cameron and all of Milam County further to work for local industrial development, yes, and the invitation of other industry which will employ local people and stir the need for all kinds of goods and services already available here.

Among the many beautiful floral offerings which bespoke the esteem held for Dr. Hubert, 60 years a practicioner of medicine in Milam County, was a particularly large, handsome floral work.

It seemed to evidence the regard held for the doctor by many people, their children and their children's children he helped bring into the world.

It said: "From the Colored Citizens of Cameron."

The doctor would have liked that.

Reading's Fun . . .

Kids To Start New Book Plan

The Cameron Public Library summer program begins next week with pre-school children, ages 4 through 6 meeting Tuesday, June 25; first through third grade children Wednesday, June 26; and fourth through sixth grades on Thursday, June 27.

The program will include story telling and related activities geared to the age group and will be held from 10 to 11 a. m.

The story hours will be held for 8 weeks with each age group meeting once each week. The program is designed as a complete session each meeting so that it will not be necessary for children to attend each week, allowing for vacation and other summer activities.

In announcing the schedule, Miss Mildred Thornton, Library Board President, stressed that it is principally designed to interest children in the library and to show them at an early age the fun and entertainments to be found in books.

She added that the program would be more of a recreation type activity than a school atmosphere, in keeping with vacation time, and that it would be challenging to every child.

'ZIP'MAIL CODE TO AID DELIVERY STARTING JULY 1

Everyone in Cameron, Texas, should use the ZIP code number, 76520, he said, to speed mail deliveries and reduce the chance of missent mail.

Hays stressed the importance of all Cameron residents learning the City's ZIP code and using it in their return address on all correspondence. In answering mail, he said ZIP codes taken from return addresses on incoming mail should be used.

John R.Hays
Postmaster
U. S. Post Office
Cameron, Texas 76520

The code should follow the city and state in addresses, as shown above.

The ZIP code plan will permit the Post Office Dept. to short cut repeated address reading. Mail addresses often must be read as many as eight or 10 times by postal employees to get it to the proper destination. Each handling slows the process of mail and increases opportunity for human error.

The ZIP code requires only a glance at the code by postal clerks to show immediately to what national area, state, and post office mail is destined. The saving is up to 24 hours in delivery time.

"When the ZIP code is in full swing, the United States will have the most modern system of mail distribution and delivery in existence, Hays said.

USDA Answers Questions

Here's Score On '64 Wheat

College Station -- The wheat program for 1964 under provisions of existing law are reviewed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in response to questions that have arisen since the referendum of May 21.

Price support will be available to producers who plant within the acreage allotments which have been established for the 1964 wheat crop.Allotments were announced in April. The national average support price will be 50 percent of parity. (The present parity price is $2.51 per bushel.)

There will be no marketing quota penalties for planting in excess of acreage allotments. However, the statute provides that producers who overplant their allotments will receive "history" credit only in the amount of their allotments.

Farmers who have Conservation Reserve contracts agreed to plant within their farm acreage allotments, and this means that the 1964 Conservation Reserve payment for the farm is dependent on compliance with the wheat acreage allotment.

Wheat that was grown in excess of marketing quotas in the past will be subject to the original penalty provisions until July 1, 1964. After that date, stored excess wheat may be released without penalty. The amount of such wheat in storage on farms and in warehouses is estimated at 45 million bushels.

This could be increased from the 1963 crop, which is subject to marketing quotas, and excess wheat from this crop may be stored by the producer to avoid payment of the penalty. On the other hand, underplanting or underproduction of 1963-crop wheat could result in the early release of excess wheat that had been stored from previous crops to avoid payment of penalty.

Other items of interest to growers in administration of the 1964 wheat program without marketing quotas include:

---ASC county committees will hear all appeal of 1964 farm wheat program without marketing quotas -acreage allotments. Farmers have 15 days from the date of the county committee's decision to appeal to the ASC State Committee if they do not agree with the county committee decision.

---Hearings on appeals of farm normal yields will not be scheduled because the yield figures will not be applicable for 1964. Where producers wish to furnish proven yield data, such data will be filed in the county office with other records of that farm.

Electric Fence Gives You, Not Coons, The Roasting Ears

Are the raccoons getting more of your roasting ears than yiu? are? Do the raccoons raid your garden each night? If so you might like to try to even up the score.

The control of the raccoons population has been a problem for a long time. When they find roasting ear size corn it seems to attract them, until either the corn or the raccoons are gone. Many times people protect their crops by hunting the coons with dogs or with lights at night.

Steel traps have proven beneficial in controlling roccoon populations and keeping them out of the gardens.

However, one of the newest control methods which has been called to my attention is an electric fence. A two wire fence is constructed to encompass the corn, peaunts or garden which is being destroyed by the raccoons. The wires are placed one above the other, three inches apart and three inches from the ground.

It is important that this fence be placed in a cleared place because vegetation will result in the fence not being effective. It is important to place the post or stakes, which hold the wire, close enough together to keep the wires near enough to the ground so the coons can not crawl under, yet not close enough for it to touch the ground. A standard electric fence charger is used to make the fence "hot".

John R. Wood, Conservation Chief in Brownwood, reports a fence of this type which is doing a good job protecting some sweet corn in Brown County. After noticing considerable damage by these night hunters, the electric fence was installed and after some additional adjustments and replacements, it appears that the raccoons are not doing any more damage to the corn.

Experts Devise New Wrinkle In Screwworm Plan

Mission - A new wrinkle has been added in the battle to eradicate screwworms from the Southwest. Screwworm flies reared and sexually sterilized in a plant near Mission are now fed prior to being released from airplanes over large portions of the five-state eradication area.

Entomologists have found that feeding gives the flies a better chance for survival after being released and results in larger numbers of vigorous flies available for the program.

A small paper cup containing a cotton ball and corn syrup is placed inside each carton at the same time the box is filled with sterilized pupae. After the flies have energed, they can feed until they are released.

Experts list these advantages to fly-feeding:

1. More flies are alive at release time, since cartons can be held an extra day giving pupae more time to emerge.
2. Flies live longer after release and are better able to find shelter and food in nature.
3. fewer flies are lost during periods when unfavorable weather does not permit aerial release and flies may have to be held for several days.
4. Also during cold weather, it is possible to hold the files until they are ready to mate, while otherwise many probably would not survive that long in nature.

Eradication officials are so pleased with the results of fly-feeding tests they are exploring means to completely mechanize the operation. They feel the initial expense could be paid off within a few months through savings in man-hours and reduced loss of sterile flies.

County Agent's Report

Corn Silage Time Best When Green

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

CUTTING CORN FOR SILAGE

According to Morrison's Feed and Feeding book, corn should be cut for silage when the kernels have passed the dough stage, but while most of the leaves are still green. Another desirable indication for best silage is when the "dented" varieties are well dented. Cutting corn should not be delayed longer, or the corn will become too mature to make the most palatable and nutritious silage. If corn matures too fast to the extent it "dries out". Water may be added as the silage is cut. If corn is cut too early, the silage will sour.

COTTON INSECT REPORT

Insect infestation continues low due in part to the dry, hot weather. Most farmers have been able to stay out of their cotton fields with poison for two weeks. This condition is favorable for the build-up of beneficial insects with the hope that lady bugs and lace wing fly larvae will be in sufficient numbers to eat up the boll worm eggs expected now about July 1 to 10.

KEEPING RACCOONS OUT OF CORN FIELDS - Anote from the Texas Game and Fish Commissioner suggest using a standard electric fence with the wires placed three inches apart and three inches from the ground so the coons can not crawl under, yet not close enough for it to touch the ground. A standard electric fence charger is used to make the fence "hot".

Milam ASCS Report

Notices of acreages are being mailed to farm operators participating in the 1963 Feed Grain Program and Cotton and Peanut Marketing Quota Programs, according to Alva E. Sanders, office manager of the Milam County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Service.

These notices are very important and should be studied carefully. If excess or deficient acreage is indicated, and the farmer wishes to adjust such acreage in accordance with the applicable crop or program provision, he must notify the ASCS County Office not later than fifteen days after the mailing date, and pay the cost of determining the adjusted acreage. The cost of this determination is $4.00 per farm plus $2.00 for each plot over one.

It is possible for a feed grain farm to remain excess or have deficient diverted acreage as long as it is within the allowable tolerance. If it is not within the tolerance, it will not be eligible to participate in the 1963 feed grain program. Sanders suggested that anyone who does not clearly understand his notice should contact the county office without delay.

Also if a farmer has reason to believe any acreage determined for the farm is not correct, he may have such acreage remeasured by filing a request at the ASCS County Office within fifteen days of the date of the notice, with a cash deposit to cover the cost of remeasurement. The required depiost for remeasurement is $8.00 per farm plus $2.00 for each plot over one, Sanders said.

Farmers Carrying $300,000 On Crops

Milam County farmers carry about $300,000 in Federal Crop Insurance Corp. incurance, according to Ben A. Jordan, Jr., of College Station, a State Crop Insurance director.

About 225 farmers carry the FC IC protection, he said, during June 16-22 Crop Insurance Week, proclaimed by Gov. John Connally. Texas participation has doubled since 1961," he reported, "and will keep farmers in business despite crop disaster and will protect townspeople too against the economic shock crop failures often cause."

FISH CLEANER

One of the fastest, saftest and most convenient gadgets for cleaning bass and similar sized fish is the curved-bladed linoleum knife.

It has an excellent point for cutting purposes, very sharp on the inside (concave side) and its large handle makes for a firm grip and fast action. Price is very low, too.

COTTON REPORT

TEXAS - OKLAHOMA SUMMARY: Interest strengthened in some Southwestern Area cotton markets this week according to the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service. Purchases continued light but inquiries were numerous, especially for late summer-early fall deliveries.

Prices eased slightly in most markets. Middling 1" quotations were off from 10-25 points from a week ago. Quotations when the market closed June 13 were: Dallas 33.75 cents per pound, off 25 points, Galveston 33.90 off 10 points, Houston 33.50 off 15 points and Lubbock 33.75 unchanged from last week.

AUSTIN: Cotton crop continued its rapid growth. Hot, dry weather prevailed; however, a few scattered showers in the upper Coastal Bend brought temporary relief from hot temperatures.

Irrigation pumps operated around the clock in the Winter Garden and Brazos Bottom sections. Hot, dry weather and good control practices have the insect situation under control. Market activity was practically non-existent.

Democratic freedom was fine for colonial America but what will we have in 1976?

THE PEOPLE WANT TO KNOW-how is freedom attained?

People attain freedom by establishing and maintaining an honest government of law with clearly stated powers, rights and obligations of government and the basic rights of personal freedom written into its legal code — by electing honest government officials and requiring them and their appointees to respect and enforce the people's basic rights.

A Word Of Appreciation From
FUCHS CASH GROCERY

We wish to express our appreciation and heartfelt thanks to all our friends and customers who were so steadfast and faithful to us during the past thirty years when we were privileged to serve you in the Feed and Grocery business which we operated in Buckholts.

It is with regret that we have had to retire from our business at the present time because of the sale of the building in which we were located.

We shall always remember your wonderful patronage and loyalty through the years. Especially do we value the many wonderful friends we have gained through these relationships.

Again, may we thank each and every one of our friends, relatives and customers for all the trade they so faithfully gave us. Also, may we take this opportunity to thank all the wholesale merchants, salesmen, local retail merchants, and all individuals who were so kind to help us dispose of all our stock and help move all our heavy fixtures.

There will always be a feeling of loneliness in our hearts when we think of all our friends, relatives, customers, and salesmen who have walked through the doors of Fuchs Cash Grocery during the past thirty years.

May God bless each and every one of you all through life.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Fuchs

Other winners were: First Heat, stock cars, Jerry Keel; First heat modified cars, Lynn Davis; 2nd heat stock cars, Pete LaPoint; Consolation for Stock Cars, Robert Carpenter; Consolation for Modifided, Bill White; Semi-Feature for stockers, Tommy Herring; Semi-Feature for Modifieds, Lonnie Pack and stock car feature, Bubba Webb. ELECTION TOPS AGENDA FOR BOOSTER CLUB

Election of the officers for the 1963-64 year will be the main item on the adgenda when the Yoemen Booster Club meets at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Yoe Ag Building.

The nominations have been turned in by the nomination committee headed by William Watkins, according to John Henderson, president.

New head coach George Kirk will be there and is looking forward to meeting the members. It will be the first time he has met with the group.

Coach C. T. Everett ended speculation that he might return to Cameron next year when he returned his contract for the coming year unsigned.

His wife also returned her contract unsigned.

Both he and Ktrk have been at the Yoe Gym getting the equipment checked and ready to go for the football season.

Kirk has been looking for a home to move into and will move to Cameron as soon as a home is found.

He is teaching swimming this summer in Temple and comes down to Cameron early in the morning to do the work needed to get ready for the football season.

He will be at the Yoeman Booster Club meeting Monday night and hopes to meet the members and Yoemen fans at that time.

The Booster Club will also elect officers for the coming year at that meeting.

School Superintendent Charles Zeigler told the Herald that the board had discussed hiring a coach to replace Joe Davis, who resigned along with John Roberts.

He said that they were looking for a basketball coach as well as a football coach but might have to settle on a straight football coach.

SH

The games will start at 7 p.m. and will feature the top four teams in the Burleson County league plus invited teams from the central Texas area.

Jr. Golf Plans Set

Cameron will be host for a Junior Invitational Golf Tournament July 10 according to Mrs. Dana Monroe and Dr. C. G. Swift, co-chairmen.

The tournament, one of the first in the area, will be for boys 10 to 18 years old and will exclude college students.

Dr. Swift said that plans are to divide the boys into three or four flights according to age. The winners of the one day tournament will receive cups and medals.

The entry fee will be one dollar and the boys will not jeopardize their amateur standings because the prizes will be within the limit set by the Texas Interscholastic League.

It is hoped that the tournament will have about 75 entries from around the state.

The co-chairman said the tournament would give the young golfers encouragement to play and improve their golf game and gain them tournament experience.

The program will also help build the boy's character and give him something to do during summer vacation, they said.

There are 15 to 20 young golfers from Cameron that are expected to enter the tournament. Entry details will be made available as soon as they are set by the committee.

More information may be obtained by contacting Dr. Swift or Mrs. Monroe.

CCC Sets July 4th Golf Tournament

The Cameron Country Club has set a members only golf tournament for July 4 according to officials.

The tournament will be played under the Calloway handicap system. This system determines a players handicap after each round by using his total gross score and deducting his worst hole or holes depending on the score.

Ed Manning is tournament chairman.

Burlington's 'ZIP' Code Is 76519, PM Says

Burlington's five-diget ZIP CODE is 76519, Postmaster Walter G. Marek announced today.

"Everyone in Burlington will use this ZIP CODE on all their correspondence to speed mail deliveries and reduce the chance of mis-sent mail," Postmaster Marek said.

Postmaster Walter G. Marek stressed the importance of all citizens of Burlington learning this city's ZIP CODE and using it in their return address on all correspondence. In answering mail, he said, Zip Codes taken from return addresses on incoming mail should be used.

"The ZIP CODE is literally the last word in mail addressing," Marek said. "It should follow the city and state in addresses."

He cited this example of the proper use of ZIP CODE:

Walter G. Marek
Postmaster
U. S. Post Office
Burlington, Texas 76519

The new ZIP CODE plan, Marek said, for the first time will permit the Post Office Department to short cut repeated address reading.

"The address on mail must often be read as many as eight or ten times by postal employees, to get it to the proper destination," Marek said. Each handling slows the process of mail dispatch and adds to the opportunity for human error.

A Psychological Rain....

Marks of about .2 of an inch were noted in Cameron but in a wider area rains ranged upto an inch.

It was the first moisture since mid-May and helped avert greater losses in grain and corn crops. Pasture land too was benefitted greatly by the rain.

One interesting thing in the Milam area has occurred during the dry spring. Those grain crops getting proper amounts of fertilizer are producing upto 10 times as much as unfertilized grain with the same shortage of water.

So with the rain though much more is needed, and increasing uses of fertilizer, things look a great deal more optimistic than a week ago.

How Much Water Have We?

The current dry spell emphasizes the need for the City of Cameron to examine its plans, if any, for future water, not only for immediate consumption but for potential industry.

If nature's cycles continue true to form, Texas is heading for a continuous dry spell for the next few years, the extent of which no one can predict.

It is quiet apparent that provision for adequate supplies of water from Belton Reservior through Little River is of utmost importance. Resources for drinking and health purposes should be considered, then additional provision for hoped-for industry that always rates available water among first considerations.

Several years ago, the Cameron City Council discussed the prospects of negotiating for additional water reserves in Belton Reservoir. In our memory, no action was taken.

But with competition for water greater than ever, Cameron cannot take its availability for granted. Much of the flow from Little River to the Brazos River is scheduled for use by Gulf Coast industry and agriculture. They have contracted for it.

It seems most wise for Cameron's City Fathers to inventory present and future water needs and get it.

July 1 To Mark Sales Tax Change

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex. - On July 1 every article of outer clothing that costs less than $10 will go up two per cent.

That is the date the extended state sales tax law goes into effect. All outer clothing now exempt will become taxable.

Smart shoppers will take advantage of the last days of June to stock up on clothing for the family. Buying of school togs may take place earlier than ever before .

Legislature made many changes in the sales tax law. Most changes affect reporting procedures of merchants. An important one, however, raises the state sales tax on automobiles from 1½ to 2 per cent.

As of July 1, if you buy a new car costing $3,000, for example, you will pay a state tax of $60.

If you trade in an old car the salesman will deduct the trade-in amount from the total, then figure your tax on the difference. In other words, if your trade-in came to $1,000 toward a $3,000 car, you would pay two per cent -- or $40 -- on the difference.

"LAYAWAY PLAN" --At the last minute Gov. John Connally signed the $3,000,000,000 state budget bill. He criticized the bill for emphasizing "bricks rather than brains." But he knocked out $12,400,000 worth of "bricks" -- i.e. construction items -- before he affixed his signature.

Connally said he would guard the $12,400,000 as a 'layaway plan' for higher education.

Hopes that his decision on the 1964-65 appropriations bill would decide the special session question fell through. He said he does not want to call a special session, but will not hesitate to do so if he becomes convinced that excellence in higher education is threatened by a shortage of funds for teaching salaries, research and libraries.

VETOES - When the governor's deadline for signing bills arrived, he inked into law most of the 554 measures passed by the Legislature.

But he vetoed a few, including:

Senate Bill 270, revising the antiquated 1856 Code of Criminal Procedure. Connally mixed the controversial code revision, after learning that the copy sent him for signature was not the one passed by the Legislature.

House Bill 709, exempting from jury service 'all owners or operators of milk-producing farms where this operation is the exclusive means of earning a living." Connally said, "I believe that dairy farmers occupy an important role in our society and can serve a valuable function as jurors."

House Bill 1083, prodiving for election of directors of the Upper Guadalupe River Authority, rather than appointment by the governor. Connally said he vetoed this since there was a technical conflict in its legal language which might jeopardize the district.

House Bill 975, repealing the requirement that the Angleton Drainage District get approval of the Texas Water Commission before spending bond money for improvements. He said Water Commission approval would assure uniformity of improvements in all water districts.

MURRAY FILE -- Income tax reports made by William J. Murray from 1946 to 1962 have been studied by Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr. Murray resigned in April as a member of the Railroad Commission, following a conflict-of-interest charge.

After noting that Murry's taxable income from oil, gas and allied operations during those 17 years exceeded $1,700,000, Carr stated, "This report does raise a serious question of a conflict-of-interest between the official duties of Mr. Murray and his private interests."

Carr recommended a Legislative Council study for an improved Code of Ethics for State officials.

Such a code, co-authered by Reps. Jim Nugent of Kerrville, Bob Eckhardt of Houston and Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi, passed the House during the legislative session but was killed in the Senate.

Study of Murray's finances was made for a Travis County Grand Jury, which will attempt to determine whether Murray violated any laws.

SCREWORM PROGRESS PROVEN -- Up to now, estimates of state and federal animal health authorities that the 1-½-year-old screwworm eradication program has resulted in anywhere from a 75 to 95 per cent decline in the disease have been pure guess work.

But the joint report of the Texas Animal Health Commission and the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the five-week period ending June 1 confirmed a 93 per cent decline as compared to the same weeks in 1962.

Animal health report showed that during the period April 28 to June 1, 1963, research workers confirmed 480 samples as screwworm infestions, and 1,231 as nonscrewworm. In the same period in 1962 there were 7,013 screwworm cases confirmed, and 597 termed non-screwworm.

PROGRAM IN JEOPARDY? -- Members of the Texas Screwworm Eradication Committee considered Governor Connally's veto of a $300,000 appropriation for the eradication program a matter of "serious concern."

They said more than 100,000 livestock producers raised $1,000,000 toward its $3,000,000 goal this spring in a 30-day period on the governor's word that the State would carry its share of the $12,000,000 program.

Committeemen said that unless the $300,000 vetoed by Connally is restored the entire program is in jeopardy, and possibly the loss of the huge investment producers already have made in the program.

LAND SALE POSTED -- Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler announced the sale of several South Texas tracts of forfeited land on which bonafide Texas veterans are invited to submit bids until 11 a.m. on July 2.

Each eligible veteran will be allowed to purchase only one of the 13 available tracts, but he may submit bids on as many as he desires.

Sadler, chairman of the Veterans Land Board, said, "The board strongly recommends that each bidder personally contact all taxing agencies to satisfy himself as to the exact amount of taxes and charges due and take those into consideration in making his bid."

Further information about the land sale may be obtained by writing the Land Commissioner at the Veterans Land Board, Geneorl Land Office, Archives and Library Building, Austin, Texas

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Sees No Way To Avoid Spending More and More On Space Exploration

Dear editar:

I wouldn't want to be in the position of the man who told the Queen of Spain she was nuts to spend her jewelry on Columbus' trip, that she had better spend it improving the lot of her own people, but the thought comes to mind as the politicians and scientists argue the value of spending billions to put a man on the moon.

In the first place, who's to say the man talking to the Queen was not right? I mean, I can't see any noticeaole gain Spain has ever made by the discovery of America, and I'm not sure the average Spainard is any happier living on a round world than he was on a flat one. On the other hand, of course, if she hadn't spent her jewelry on Columbus she might have spent it on an Opera singer or a traveling tent show, and Spain would be in about the same place she is now anyway.

However, the discovery of America has turned out fairly well for us people now living here, and my position on sending a man to the moon is that it's all right with me so long as I'm not the man.

It's true that there may not be anything up there worth having, and I personally see little hope for an area where it never has rained, other than the fact they blaned sure don't have a farm problem up there, but it's something that can't be avoided, on account of the by-products. You never know what'll turn up.

I mean, exploring space is no longer a sporting event, like climbing a mountain. I read the other day that Russia is now working on a plan to launch atomic bombs into orbit, hundreds of them circling the globe in all directions, so that any time she decides to, she could throw a switch and let one descend on whatever target it happens to be passing over at the time, New York, Washington, this Johnson grass farm, Cameron, London, Cape Canaveral, ect. From a military standpoint, this sure would beat launching them from a cave in Cuba, and you wouldn't have to eat lunch with Castro besides.

I guess if you get right down to it, I'd rather have a big national debt hanging over my head than a big Russian atomic bomb.

If it takes it, let's give our jewelry to keep exploring space. This is an excellent idea. I don't have any jewelry.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Dear Sir:

Your "Out of the Past" rings many bells in my memory of the long ago. I do hope that you will make this a regular feature in your valuable paper. We oldsters do love to reminisce about those "good ole days" and if you give us an inch, we'll surely talk a mile. I'm sure you will never want for material.

I recall with fond affection many of the older members of the Milam County Bar - T. S. Henderson, M. Cox, J. K. Freeman, W. A. Morrison, O. L. Kidd, W. W. Chambers, Joe Lockett, Monta Moore, John Watson, Judge Pool, T. V. Adams, and Judge Criswell of Buckholts, Will Garner and Emory Camp of Rockdale. Cameron had many splendid lawyers in the early 1900's.

I began work as a stenographer for a new firm of attorneys in 1902 or 1903 - Freeman & Morrison - who had offices over the Greek-American Candy Kitchen and was often appointed Court Reporter by Judge Scott and Judge Pool. Milam County had no official reporter in those days. Several young lawyers had offices over Baskin's store in the H. F. Smith building among whom were Sam Hearrell, Walter Nelson, Sam Little and others. Ralston and Little composed a partnership and their sign "Ralston & Little, lawyers upstairs" appeared on the door leading up the stairway from the street. Someone changed that sign to read "Ralston & little lawyers upstairs". A standing joke was to inquire at the Baskin store for the names of those little lawyers upstairs.

I recall many famous criminal and civil cases tried there in Cameron - especially the McCord and Peoples cases which brought lawyers from over the state to Cameron. I well remember F. M. Etheridge and M. M. Crane of Dallas and a young railroad attorney from Houston by the name of J. H. Tallichet. He was a friend of Oxsheer Smith. Railroad cases were always on the docket - many of then brought by farmers whose lands had become infested with Johnson Grass caused from seed washed from the railroad right-of-way. The court house was always a bee hive of activity.It is hard to believe that Cameron had seven or eight weekly newspapers. I recall sending news every week to the Gause Gazette, Thorndale Thorn, Buckholts Bulletin, Rockdale Reporter, Rockdale Messenger, Cameron Enterprise and the Cameron Herald.

Outdoors In Texas

Each year many Texans, and others too, like to visit the Big Bend National Park in West Texas.

An even greater number will go there this year because more facilities now are available and there are new roads.

One road goes into the mysterious Santa Elena Canyon of the Rio Grande. Another Basin road ties the canyon into the little town of Presideio another gateway into Mexico.

Big Bend National Park is a mighty expanse, covering more than 700,000 acres of mountains and deserts. Altitude ranges from 2,000 to nearly 8,000 feet on rugged peaks.

It is touched for more than 100 miles by the Rio Grande River. Just across the river is Mexico the land of manana.

Although there is considerable snow in the Big Bend Park in the winter it is even more glamorous in the spring. Then the whole desert explodes with beautiful blooming cacti.

May is the month when wild flowers are in greatest profusion. Then too the weather is not too steaming for comfortable travel or for exploration among the wilds of the vast area.

You approach Big Bend National Park across a desert, with rugged mountains in the background.

Nature hasn't been too kind to this country. In fact it frequently is referred to as Creation's scrap pile because of the deep arroyas, exposed colored layers of clay and rock and the mountains pushing skyward.

The Rio Grande River makes three tremendous cuts or gorges as it meanders between the two counties. These canyon walls, some of them more than 1,000 feet straight up, represent the erosion of centuries.

Big Bend National Park is reached over U. S. Highway 90, which links San Antonio and El Paso. It is 410 miles from San Antonio, 323 miles from El Paso.

Alpine is the nearest town of any size, and it is 81 miles away.

Marathon is the southern entrance to the park, a distance of 39 miles from the highway to the park entrance near Persimon Gap, and 70 miles from the park headquarters.

There are many trails, foot and horseback, within the park. Most of them start at Panther Junction, park headquarters.

Panther Junction provides a wonderful view of the basin area from an altitude of 5,800 feet. Here also will be found cottages for rent, a store, restaurant and campgrounds.

Also at Panther Junction is a trailer park. However, trailers, can not make the drive into the Basin area, because of the elevation of the roads.

One of the most interesting side trips is the Lost Mile trail along Lost Mile Ridge. This 14-mile round trip affords a magnificent panorama of the vastness of this great country.

There are picnic sites and campsites available in other places in the park, offering facilities for those who want to spend the night out in the open.

Near Boquillas Canyon, 35 miles from the Basin and close to the eastern boundary of the Park, is Rio Grande Village. Here there is an irrigated desert area and campsites, with boats and horses for rent to those who want to explore farther.

Information on the Big Bend National Park may be obtained by writing the Chamber of Commerce at Alpine. If you've never been there, plan a trip this year for your family outing.

Longest Day - June 21 is the longest day of the year and it is especially important to poultrymen. It is the day they should use as a guide for determining the length of time hens need to do their work. Experts recommend that layers should not have fewer hours of light than they will on this date.

COTTON MOISTURE Cotton's need for moisture has been found to be greatest during the fruiting period. Shedding in cotton also results from a lack of soil moisture. Researchers warn the producer not to wait too long to irrigate and advises that he make soil examinations to determine the proper time.

Who yet has been able to "improve" God's way of doing anything, whatsoever? Is it not better, simply but surely, to find God's way in this as in other things; and by implicit faith, allow His way to become your way? "The ways of the Lord are right." Bosea 14:9

HARD OF HEARING GET NEW TYPE AID

Electronic Engineers have made a big break through in a new hearing device. This new development now makes it possible for all sounds, all human voices to be heard as nature intended. This new way of hearing does not use the ear! Instead the vibrations of sound are brought directly to your sensory system. There are no cords, no batteries, no ear molds, no boxes, and nothing in the ear.

Mr. Treadway

Mr. Treadway will hold his regular Hearing Clinic at the Right Hotel in Cameron, Tuesday, June 25th from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

We invite you to come in and get full information on this new hearing device. See it for yourself. If you are unable to come in, write and we will give you complete information.

We do fast repair service on any make aid and save you money. We have fresh batteries for all makes of aids at a 20 per-cent savings.
